STATINTL

In response to a query from Mrs. [REDACTED] of Personnel, this office advised against the amending of [REDACTED] contract by a letter providing for compensation of "$50.00 per consultation" in lieu of $50.00 per diem. There was some indication from [REDACTED] that Fiscal preferred a letter amendment.

The matter was discussed in detail with Mr. [REDACTED] who had been requested some weeks ago to ascertain that all copies of the contracts with [REDACTED] were changed to read as indicated above. Mr. [REDACTED] said he would personally take the matter in hand and see that clean copies of the contracts were in file, and that all copies would read as indicated above.

In addition, Mr. [REDACTED] said he would follow up the Navy's request for a monthly report on [REDACTED] with regard to the days on which he rendered consultation. This matter was mentioned in the letter signed by Mr. Wolf to Navy dated 23 August, and a covering memorandum (dated 22 August) to the DD/A from the undersigned. Although copies were directed to the Personnel Director, apparently they were never received.
